

ISSN 1465 - 3591

Journal of Qur'anic Studies

VOLUME XVI ISSUE 3 2014

The Qur'an in Modern World Literature

Edited by Helen Blatherwick and Shawkat M. Toorawa

CENTRE OF ISLAMIC STUDIES
School of Oriental and African Studies
University of London

Journal of Qur'anic Studies

VOLUME XVI ISSUE 3 2014

• ABSTRACTS OF ARTICLES IN ENGLISH

• ARTICLES

HELEN BLATHERWICK AND SHAWKAT M. TOORAWA: Guest Editors' Preface	1
DAVID DAMROSCH: Foreword: Literary Criticism and the Qur'an	4
AYMAN A. EL-DESOUKY: Between Hermeneutic Provenance and Textuality: The Qur'an and the Question of Method in Approaches to World Literature	11
NOOR HASHEM: 'The Feast of the Ants': Agency, the Body, and Qur'anic Narrative in Hisham Matar's In the Country of Men	39
WEN-CHIN OUYANG: The Qur'an and Identity in Contemporary Chinese Fiction	62
JEFFREY EINBODEN: 'Minding the Koran' in Civil War America: Islamic Revelation, US Reflections	84
M.A.S. ABDEL HALEEM: The Qur'an in the Novels of Naguib Mahfouz (in Arabic)	126
RIZWANUR RAHMAN: The Impact of the Qur'an on Twentieth-Century Urdu Poetry (in Arabic)	156
DINA AMIN: Bā Kathīr's Hārūt wa-Mārūt : Can the Qur'an Have an Alienating Effect?	157
SHAWKAT M. TOORAWA: The Modern Literary (After)lives of al-Khiḍr	174
FERIAL J. GHAZOUL: Humanising Islam's Message and Messenger in Postcolonial Literature	196
• ABSTRACTS OF ARTICLES IN ARABIC	223